Running order and starting grids will be posted on the black board at the scales. It is the driver's responsibility to check the board and to pull onto the track in the correct order. An Eastside Speedway track official will assist in lining up the cars on pit road. Eastside Speedway reserves the right to put you in the rear of the field if you fail to report to pit road in a timely manner.

- N. Speedway officials will determine the car(s) that are considered to be directly involved in the accident. Those cars will restart the race in the rear of the field. If a caution has been displayed, and you are involved in an accident, it will be at the discretion of the Eastside Speedway officials. We will make every effort to sort out an accident placing only those cars immediately involved in the accident to the rear of the field. Eastside Speedway officials are positioned on the track and watch for contact between cars and cars that come to a halt on the track. Even if you do not come to a stop on the racing surface but are deemed to have been the cause of an accident you will be sent to the rear for restart.

- P. After the first lap has been completed, if you go into the pits you will go to the rear for the restart.
